What They Say at Washington. -Telegraphic Correspondence of the Cin. Guzatte

WASHINGTON, May 3. The adjournment of the Convention is an bundlisting confession of defeat on the part of Douglas and his adherents.

The retreat will be as disastrous as that of Napoleon from Moscow. With all the flour-ish of a conqueror, the Little Giant entered Charleston. He fought with bls opponents juch by inch, and gained hard won victories. that were more fatal than defeats.

At last he succeeded in driving his strongest opponents from the Convention, and just at the moment he thought all was secure, the victory proved to be farren. His camp fol-lowers saw no rewards before them. Defec-tion and mutiny began to threaten; and to save anything from the wreck, an ignominions flight become necessary.

That is substantially the history of the Charleston Convention and its adjournment.

Douglas' friends, open and secret, had about Douglas' friends, open and secret, had about half the body.

They managed to obtain partial control.—
They got a favorable delegation admitted from New York; passed their own rules, and forced a swindling platform on the Convention.

They expected to consummate their willy intrigues by the nomination of their chosen leader, but here the calculation missed. Those they expected would submit quietly, left them in contemptuous disdain.

The telegraph says the latter movement was made under orders from Washington, and this is doubtless true.

The "Arch-Conspirator" saw he was about

Neither his purse nor his popularity can stand another campaign like the one just closed.

The Andrews Case.

This case which was concluded on Friday in a verdict of acquittal, has excited considerable interest in various parts of the State.-The public position of the defendant, the attempt to give the whole thing a political aspect, the change of venue, and the remarkably prepossessing appearance of the defendant and his wife, who accompanied him in court throughout the trial, together with the fact that parties outside of the prosecution have been instrumental in hunting up and making known other charges against Mr ANDREWS - all tended to invest the trial with an interest that would not otherwise have at tended it.

Mr. Andrews is pronounced innocent .-The prosecution plainly failed to make out that the building was fired by design, and this being the corpus delicis, was used as the strong point of the defence. We have nothing to do with the other charges against Mr. Andrews, at present; we are bound to be lieve him innocent of the orime charged against him in the recentlindictment, and if he returns to Delavan--as he informed us '(during the trial) he intended to do after the suit was over, we hope he may meet with all the success he deserves.

The Right of American Stavery. T. W. Horr, of St. Louis, has published a pamphlet of fifty one pages which establishes on philosophical grounds the right of American Slavery. Mr. Horr is no mere apologist for Slavery; he admires it and asserts that Blavery per se is a virtuous and noble institu tion because "Right holds a just and hereditary control over wrong,"-because "barbarism should subserve civilization." Mr. Horr embarks in a philosophical voyage to the spirit of certain gentlemen, whose eagerness Niger, and makes an investigation of the false for office blinds their eyes to the injustice of religious rites-pagan stroctties-devil wor. the gross and unjust anonymous attacks ship, bloody orgics—cannibalism and tyr- which have been made upon the present suny of the African people. He luxuristes Board. in the indiscriminate havor said to take place at Ashantee; Le looks on at the man-eating feasts, turns over the bloody bones of the victims, and joins in the disgusting ceremonies of massacre. Having filled Limself and readers with a sickening horror, he makes the following deduction: The African race is a race of barbarians. Cannibalism lurks n the very core of his being.

This accomplished Mr. Holf steers his phiosophical canoe back to the home of the free, and the land of the brave, and walks with con. scious triumph among the subjugated slaves of the Carolinas and exclaims "look at the results of American Slavery-no cannibalism-no smoking human bones (Mr. Horr avoided the alave burnings) no hideous orgies. Such are the blessed results of Slavery!"

Mr. Horr then abandons his cance and becomes argumentative; he starts out with his store of African lore and proposes to demolish the arguments of emancipationists by such a course of reasoning as this: It is right, in some instances, to take the liberty f individuals, if not their life, as in the case f malefactors, &c. So with all other crime against society. There is an agreement mong nations that the violator of law shall ecome a prisoner. The Africans have viclated the law of humanity, and it is rightmay, the duty of civilization to enslave

We cannot, however, in this article, ventilate all of Mr. Horr's wonders of moral philosophy, but we here sum up his pamphlet in the following: PEILOSOPHICAL POSTULATES

MILWAUKEE, MONDAY MORNING, MAY 7, 1860.

When the present Board went into office, they found in the treasury $15 12. They leave for their successors five times that amount.

The Board entered upon the lecturing season with very great anxiety and distrust, and under very unfavorable auspices, as it seemed. The Course was, however, conceded to be a brilliant success, and the lectures given vere of the very highest order. This fortunate conclusion was, in a large measure, due to the energy and industry of the Board.

At the beginning of the Society year, it seemed almost hopeless to expect that any purchase of new books of large amount could so made during the year. But over 400 volumes have been added, many of them valualle and standard works. So large an addiion has not been made in any year, except the last, when the Association received nearly $800 insurance money; which was expended in refitting, and additions to the liorary. But much has been said about the compen sation of the Librarian, as if it were extravagant, for which the present Board should be ield responsible.

In the first place, the salary of the Librarian has remained unchanged this year, and as it was left the year previous, when several f the candidates for election upon the opposite ticket were members of the Board. Secondly, the salary, so far from being exravagant, is inadequate compensation for the abor performed by the librarian. The Librarian of an Association like this must be familiar with books. He must be good book-keeper; he must be prompt, accurate, diligent, reliable; he must have a quick ear, a ready hand, a courteous address, and an amiable disposition; he must know the people who resort to the library; he needs experience in the office; and as a large share of the fund goes through his hands, he must be honest. And all this for $600 per an-

Mr. Annold was brought up among books; he is familiar with the trade, and his acquaintance with booksellers and books has been of great advantage to the Association; he keeps the small, minute accounts of the Associa tion with great accuracy. He is always ready to assist the Board in any way, and is universally popular with the reading members; is known to all, and knows them all. He is always at his post, and never tired, or never allows himself to appear so. And for the last two years, he has enlisted so many new members that their initiation fees and dues have angmented to more than his own salary, mmense as it appears to some | And perhaps it may, indeed, seem industrious, when we reflect that Mr. ARNOLD probably receives at least twenty-five cents an hour or thereabouts for his labors in behalf of the Association I It is, indeed, scarcely possible to conceive of such extravagance, and we cannot wonder that the correspondent of the Wisconsin thereat.

RUFUS KING, EDITOR. MONDAY MORNING, MAY 7, 1860.

Election of President by the House. failed to agree upon a candidate, or platform, they have made up their minds to disagree; each faction to go to work for their own faverite, and both anticipating that the result speaking and straightforward action, and will be to throw the election of President into hence the "bolt." the House, where they hope to be able to control it We have ziready expressed the belief that the People would not consent to part with the right of choosing a President for themselves, to accommodate the schemes and aspirations of designing partisans. But as many e: our readers may be interested in knowing what would be the effect of a failure to elect a President by the Electors chosen by the People of the several States, we copy the following statements and speculations on the but ject from the Albany Evening Journal; In such a case the choice would devolve on the House of Representatives—the pres-ent House. The vote is taken by States each State casting one vote only. Rhods laland would cast one vote and New York no more. If Kansas shall be admitted in time there will be 34 States to vote and 18 will be required to make a choice. If Kansas should not be admitted 17 would elect.

rhonid not be admitted 17 would elect.

The Republicans may count on 15 States, viz: Connecticut, Indiana, Iowa, Maine, Massachasetts, Michigan, Minnesota, New Hampel re, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Penusylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont and Wissership or 16 with Kunan sylvania, thode Island, Vermont and Wis-consin; or 16 with Kansas.

The Democrats control 14 States, viz: Ala-hama, Arkansas, Piorida, California, Dela-ware, Georgia, Illinois, Louisiana, Missis-sipli, Misseuri, Oregon, Sonth Carolina, Trans and Virginia.

The Americans have two States: Maryland and Tennesses; and two are equally divided by twen Democrats and Americans: Kentucky and North Carolina. So that with Kauss in, and 18 necessary for a choice, the Without Kansas, 17 being necessary to elect, the Republicans would have 15—two short of an election.

Should the Democrats combine with their should the Democrats combine with their cwn votes those of Maryland, Kentucky, cwn votes those of Maryland, Kentucky, Tenersee and North Carolina, an election would be unals. But the recent contest for Speaker shows how unlikely that event is. The probability of the Republicans securing either two of those States is also remote.

No election of President taking place, either by the Electors or the House of Representatives, the Vice President becomes President exception. That officer also failing of an election in the Electoral College, would be chosen by the Senate from the two candidates baring the most electoral votes. As the Senate would vote in the usual way, and not by States, the Democrats would elect an the first lallot.

went directly back to Washington. So far from seeking an opportunity to "exhibit" himself, Mr. Porran resolutely refused the ovations tendered to him in various parts of his district; though he could not escape the spontaneous and hearty greetings which met him stevery point on his route home and back. If the Sham Democratic organs are still in doubt as to the opinion entertained of Mr. POTTLE by the Electors of the First Congressional District, they will have those doubts most eff-ctually solved, next Novem-

A COUNTRYMAN, some 50 years of age, was while ago swindled at Mobile out of $300 by a sharper, who persuaded him that a hotel was a bank, and offered to make the deposit for him.

Men, not Principles. The Albany Evening Journal thus pithily sums up the course which led to the dissolution of the Democratic Party:

The split, though cominsally once platforms, was, early upon mon. Both platforms are pro-slavery—the one proposes to establish Slavery in the Territories of Congressional Legislation, the other assumes if to established there by judicial decision. Both concurse the control of the result. They differ only as to the means. The Southern Platform differs, mainly, from the Northern, in the fact that it is frank and outspoken. There are no "specious by a prominent Democratic politician in New generalities," or two-faced doctrines about it. > The Prince of Wales! Tour. The Montreal Gazetic states that the Prince of Wales will leave England, on his American trip, on the 15th of July. His first port on this side of the Atlantic will be St. Johns, Newfoundland. Thence he will proceed to Halifax, and thence cross over the country and visit St. Johns, N. B., and Fredericktown. If practicable he will thence cross over to Shediac, where his fleet will go round to meet him, and proceed up the river to Quebec. If he finds difficulty in getting to Shediac, he may cross to Portland and come over the Grand Trunk Railway to Quebec or Montreal. From Montreal he will go to Kingston; thence to Ottawa; from Ottawa to Toronto; thence across the lake to the Palls; and back by rail to Hamilton. He will go to Sarnia to see the Grank Trunk works there, and travel over the Western States incog: go to Washington and he the guest of the President; thence visiting the Atlantic cities, and have his fleet meet him at Portland; or probably if he comes by Portland, his departure may be from Quebec, and he may take the Grand Trunk for Portland after the completion of his tour in the United States. Circumstances at the time, but waking up and hearing their intention, he attempted to escape by jumping overboard. A shot fired by one of the crew killed him on the spot, and his body was eaten. In this horrible manner the crew subslisted till the 29th of September, when they were picked up and landed at Sourabays, most of them being in a shocking state.

THE NEW ASSESSMENT LAW .- The Sparta

THE HEENAN AND SAYERS PRIZE FIGHT ACCOUNTS.—The call for the p pers containing the account of this fight w s beyond all precedent in newspaper history, and the extrastaken by all the country on the occasion must have been numbered by millions. Even of the spurious accounts issued two or three days before, 50,000 copies were sold in the large cities, and of the authentic account, the number was almost increditle. The New York Herald alone printed 104,000 on Saturday, and 98,000 on Sunday. The Sun and other papers also had immense editions, and at least half a million papers in the aggregate were sold in New York on Saturday. The Springfield Republican says there were 3,500 extra copies of that paper sold on the spot, and the demand was overpowering.

The greatest revolution in Europe would not have caused so great a demand. THE HEENAN AND SAVERS PRIZE FIGHT

OUR STATE CONVENTION .- The State Con-OUR STATE CONVENTION.—The State Convention held in this city on Wednesday was the very largest, and one of the most respectable in point of character, ever held in this State. Every settled county in this State except Emmet, was represented, and all but two by their own citizens, and they by those selected by themselves. Even the several counties of the Upper Peninsnia all had their delegates. Such an event was never before known in the bistory of any party in this State. It shows first the deep root Republicanism has taken in the hearts of the people, and next their warm devotion to Wm. H. Seward.—Detroit Adv. May 4.

Up River Grain.—John Chamberlain, who came down from St. Paul this morning, reports great activity in grain at all the important river points above. Since the crowd of "spring sowing" is over, farmers are making a grand push for the lively "dollar a bushel." There is still immense reserves of grain in the hands of interior farmers who kept back during the winter waiting for snow. The grain shipment is about an even thing between St. Louis and Milwankee.—La Cross Union and Democrat, May 4.

Turbody of a girl, about a year old, has been exhumed at Port Republic, N. J., by order of the coroner, and an examination has revealed the presence of a large quantity of pounded window glass in the intestines. The jury raturned a verdict of "death from the jury raturned a verdict of "death from the administration of pounded glass, by the hands of the girl's step-father." He was duly committed to jail to await trial.

The Fight for the Championship.

the anxiety for news was intense, and every-body swaited the arrival of the Extra, got up and printed in London, by the enterprise of and printed in London, by the enterprise of Mr. Wilkes. By common consent it was agreed that no report, or pretended report, would carry any reliability with it until this, "bearing the superscription of Cosar," arrived by the Vanderbilt. Nobly did the gallant ship perform her mission. She arrived twelve hours before she was generally expected; and hours before any other account.

Slave Property? in the Slave States. The South, however, had had enough of this double-dealing and so insisted upon plain speaking and straightforward action, and looked for was thus disseminated among the people with unprecedented rapidity, and it excited about equally the emotions of pride, surprise, and indignation.

That the representative of America in the great international contest had borne himself so bravely, had fought with such skill and determination, and had obtained decisive advantages over so great and experienced a master of the puglistic set as Tom Sayers, could not but swell the great American heart when the facts were understood. It was as though the arms of our country had triumphed once again upon some well-fought field of though the arms of our country had triumphed once again upon some well-fought field of battle over a brave, obttinate, and martial enamy. But that he had been deprived of the reward of his exertions and courage, when violory was within his grasp; caused an amount of surprise and indignation hard-ly to be paralleled within our memory. If in the boasted land of fair play, in the very arena which is said to have created and cherished the manly and admirable sentiment, 2 battle is to go on, or to cease, according the caprices and exigencies of a band of ruf-fians, how idle it will be to talk about the honor of holding the Champion's belt. The honor of holding the Champion's belt. The mercenary interests of some, the grovelling instincts of others, and we fear the mistaken sympathy of more prevented this battle from being fought to its manifestly legitimate conclusion—the winning of the belt by John C. Heenan. In speaking of this attempt to deprive the best man of the belt and the battle money, we do not mean to employ the language of vituperation. We believe that cool and earnest protest—the appeal from Philip drunk to Philip sober—will have a more salutary effect than violent denunciation.

drunk to Philip sober—will have a more sal-utary effect than violent denunciation.

It may have seemed hard to some people, that so gallant and determined a fighter as Tom Sayers, whose fame had well nigh cui-minated in the very highest honors, should be beaten by a younger, a bigger, a stronger, and as game an adversary. But liability to this is a condition of the fortune of war—an incident to the holding of the belt itself— Who would not be a here if, he had assured pliment:

"Great praise is due to Dr. Bennett, the able Senator from Rock county, who first introduced the present system, and has persessiveringly labored from year to year in getting it perfected, but whose efforts have been in a great measure thwarted until the late session.

The returns were carefully canvassed by Scereary Move.—Middleon Patriot.

Here is an all-usificient answer to the persistent claimor of the Madison Argus and Patriot, the Appleton Cracent and one, or two other Sham-Democratic organs, about a plot on foot among the Republicans to defraud Judge Dixon of his "certificate," by throwing out a number of votes returned for him. The experiment of canvassing in a candidate, not clecked by the People, was once fairly tried by the Democratic predecessors of Messre. Habeur, Hastings and Hows, and their encress was by no means flattering.—There has never been the slightest probability that our Republican State officers would follow any such Democratic precedent.

Presidential Election!

THE GREAT CAMPAIGN IS AT HAND!!

for the Conflict!! Circulate Truth among the People!

Let Every Republican Prepare

THE WEEKLY SENTINEL Six Months for Less than Cost of Paper and Printing!!!

READ AND BE CONVINCED!

The approaching campaign is to be a memorable one. The battle will be fought asslously between the friends and the enemies of Freedom, and the ground contested inch by inch. In view of these facts, it is appa rent that the dissemination of Republican papers and documents becomes of vast and with importance. In order to furnish the WERELY SENTIREL to the people of the North-West, during the Campaign of 1860, we have concluded to offer the paper, FROM THE 16TH OF MAY TO THE 16TH OF NOVEM-BER, at the following unprecedented libers. One Copy for .

paper before it is printed; but we have determined to put the price so low that every individual Republican, or organized Club, in this or adjoining States, will use their best end-avors to scatter the SENTINEL broadcast in their particular localities, and thus accomplish more than by the circulation of ten times as many documents in any other form. Every Campaign subscriber will reo-ive the Proceedings of the National Convention, to be held in May, and full returns of the election in November. We need not urge upon our Republican friends the importance of placing this sheet in the hands of all. Let No voter, or family in the State, be without the SENTINEL during the Campaign. Wheresoever facts are read, and the people have access to truth, Republicanism prevails.

Send in your orders as early in May as pessible. Address JERMAIN & BRIGHTMAN.

THE SENTINEL.

Terms of the Sentinel. CASH, INVARIABLY IN ADVANCE

To Mrs. Mary Worthington Morris.

BY SAMUEL WOODWORTH. The seer of o'd whose name I bear,
The prophet who annointed Saul,
Predicted many a bright affair
To grace the ising chief withal:
So I, once gazing on a youth,
From beyhood just emerging,
With genius, talent, virtue, truth,
To acts of greatness crying—
Predicted that an angel's hand
Would load him to the gromized land.

Years rolled away and Fame was his.
With blessings of the wise and good;
And while o'er Hope's and obseques
Thousands, as drooping mourners stood,
He smiled in silence—for success
With liberal hand had crowned him;
And Beauty's smile—with Love's caress,
In sliken cords had bound him.
I sure the angel at his side—
'Ticus thou—his counsellor and guide,

COMMERCIAL.

MONETARY. SATURDAY, P. M., May 5, 1860. The only new feature which the money market has esented during the past week, is a more plentiful supply of Exchange. The selling rate is still 13 pre-mium, but in view of the large shipments of produce; it is not unlikely that it will come down % or % * cent within a few days. The large movements of grain now taking place, creates a heavy demand for currency, and discounts are in consequence ; lo , except for product

COMMERCIAL. SATURDAY P. M., May 5, 1860.

There was considerable activity in the Whest market during the early part of to-day, the sales amounting in the aggregate to upwards of 80,000 bus, including 10,000 No. 1 for delivery next Saturday in store, at the same price paying to-day, $1,11. Prices of Club varied from $1,14 to $1,15, according to quality of samples. We heard of no sales of strictly extra quali-tics. After the receipt of the New York report, the market became heavy, and it would have been difficul; to have sold, except at a decline of M@le from the opening figures. Still nothing occurred upon which we can have any dection. It will be seen that the eccipts for the week exceed those of any preceding sales of flour were reported, and those were fully up to previous prices, $5,35@$5,65 for good to choice Extra. The reduction in freights had a favorable effect upon the market. The rates are now: 60e to New York; Suc to Boston; 45c to Ogdenaburgh; and 25c

OFFICE OF THE DAILY SENTINEL, | Saturday, P. M., May 5th. As might have been expected, the wheat market has recoded 3@40 from the highest point touched last week, the excitement that prevailed at the date of our last review being followed by the usual reaction, and the downward movement was not a little accelerated by the continued large receipts. The deliveries by Railroad here during the last two weeks exceed the re-Schuylkill, egg... ceipts at any other city in the West. No. 1 to-day sold at $1,11 in store, and $1,12 delivered: last Saturday the ruling prices were $1,14@1,15. There has been less disposition to speculate, this week, then either of the two preceding ones, and the transactions were mostly confined to the immediate wants of buyers.

In flour the change has not been so marked, that article not having undergone so much of an advance last week, as wheat. During the last two days the
